Covenant Capital Management Recognized for Long-term Performance

NASHVILLE, March 3 – Covenant Capital Management (CCM), a boutique asset management firm specializing in systematic, model-driven trading strategies, announced today that its Original Program was recently recognized as the “Best CTA long-term performance under $500m” at the CTA Intelligence U.S. Performance Awards 2014 in New York City.

The CTA Intelligence U.S. Performance Awards recognize and reward Commodity Trading Advisors (CTAs) who have successfully outperformed their competitors over the last 12 months. CCM was nominated in the following categories:

- Best Diversified CTA under $500m
- Best CTA long term performance under $500m
- Best trend follower
- CTA Management firm of the year

“We are very excited to receive the Best Long Term Performance Award,” said Scot Billington, co-founder of Covenant Capital Management. “We founded this company with the aim of having the best risk-adjusted returns in the industry, and this recognition reinforces that we are heading in the right direction.”
